Chamber of Commerce Directors Present Optimistic Report at Quarterly Meeting Held Yesterday

SIX DEVELOPMENTS SPECIALLY NOTED

Reference to the development of the Campbell River water power, the work of the port commission and the construction of the new bridge over the North Pacific continent to be completed in the near future, the Chamber of Commerce directors, at their quarterly meeting held yesterday, presented an optimistic report on the state of the city's affairs. The directors, who were met at the Chamber of Commerce building, were met by the president, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary.

The report, which was read by Mr. Warren, was as follows: The directors, who were met at the Chamber of Commerce building, were met by the president, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary, Mr. George I. Warren, secretary.

First—That the power development of the Campbell River, which is now being developed, will be a great asset to the city. Second—That the electric power developed at Campbell River should be available for the use of Vancouver Island, and fairly distributed according to the several needs.

Third—That the power rates in the Campbell River should be as low as possible. Fourth—That the power rates in the Campbell River should be as low as possible. Fifth—That the power rates in the Campbell River should be as low as possible.

PORT DEVELOPMENT

Your development committee, under the able chairmanship of Captain T. Ross, has been very active. Representatives were sent to the Dominion Government, which awarded for the construction of a new wharf at the mouth of the Douglas and the mouth of the Campbell River. This work is now being carried on and upon its completion it is expected that the collection of the different shipping companies will be entirely removed, resulting in considerable activity and business in the port.

"What do you think of Life Insurance?"

"When John was with us, I fought against Life Insurance. It seemed so slow, unexciting way to invest money. I wanted a new house, a new car, fine clothes and the things that money could buy . . .

"But John insisted. He took on more Life Insurance than I ever dreamed of. Sometimes we had to make little sacrifices because of it. And John would explain how large an estate would be necessary to provide an income for the children and myself.

"Now, since John has been taken from us, how bitterly have I regretted my stubborn opposition . . . how deeply grateful have I been for his living forethought which, even in spite of my own efforts, now protects us and provides for our every need."

"It is a fact, my dear, that if every family knew what every widow knows, every man would carry sufficient Life Insurance."

Life Insurance

"You are one, turned your back on me."

The stranger turned and looked at Peter over his shoulder.

"I suppose I was," said Peter. "I was a little out of my mind."

"I am not," said the stranger; decidedly. "I am not a member of the 'Mads' and I have no right to say anything to you."

"I don't want to be. I'd have rather been that I belong to the 'Fraternite'."

"Oh! said Peter, "I have your name on my card. I don't look like a 'Mads'. I didn't know you were a member of the 'Fraternite'."

"I mind my saying so, I have heard something of it."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Review was loaded up with partial when the friends met him.
"Then doing a lot of shopping?"
quipped the friend.
"Yes, I have bought my wife two new hats, five boxes of chocolate and a bottle of perfume. I bought "Good heavens, man! What are you! You must have had!"

Professor of Chemistry--What is the common term for H<sub>2</sub>O?
"Hydrogen--I had it on the tip of my tongue a moment ago, but I lost it." I just now.
Professor--If you had it on the tip of your tongue a moment ago, wouldn't you know it now? It's hydrogen gas.
